2 NATIONAL CHAMPS

3 PHOTOS AND VIDEO

The Project Blackout International Championship (PBIC) is a world-class tournament where the best Project Blackout players from all around the globe are invited to compete for cash prizes!

In order to be invited to PBIC, your team must first participate in a qualifying tournament held by various publishers (example: www.gamerge.com) annually. The team that wins at the national level will then be invited to PBIC to compete internationally against the best of the best in an epic round-robin style tournament.

Teams that are invited to PBIC will receive an all-expense paid trip to the country that the tournament is hosted in. In 2011, the very first PBIC tournament was held in South Korea with only 6 countries (South Korea, Thailand, Indonesia, Russia, Brazil and Turkey) competing.
